CLASS HISTORY

By Betty Jean Jefferson

Have you ever turned your thoughts to memories of the past? If so, perhaps you can visualize the happenings of the Class of 1948, which I am going to relate to you. The history of this class is so dramatic and unusual that it resembles a play—not the regular plays which are given, but a very special play which could have happened only once.

This play, which is entitled "The Class of 1948," is in four acts and includes three brief intermissions. It is written by the actors as they play their parts under the direction of Mr. Guy H. Brown, the principal, and a very competent faculty. It is produced by the Board of Education, with the cooperation of the taxpayers of Virginia. All the scenes take place in the high school building in classrooms, the gymnasium, the auditorium and storied halls.

The curtain rises on a September morning four years ago. A number of dark forms are observed sneaking toward the direction of the high school building. They are the students who constitute the Freshman Class. Their first action is the election of class officers. After much thought, Bobby Thurston is elected President, and John Shaner, Vice-President. Ward Jones is elected Secretary-Treasurer.

Finally, the Freshmen overcome their timidness and begin concentrating on their work. At this point, the villain Study enters the scene and interferes with the happiness and freedom of the students. They in turn encounter Study's brother Examinations, who discourages them to no end at the close of the semester.

It seems that during this period there is another villain who is threatening the world. His name is War, and in order to defeat him the Freshmen dive wholeheartedly into the sale of war bonds. In connection with this sale, a Victory Queen and a Victory King contest is held with Freshmen participating. The coronation ball, after the contest, brings forth many Freshmen in their formal attire. For most of them, it is their first dance; so the air is full of excitement.

Still another event takes place. This time it is a mock election. Most of the school participates, with the exception of a few who cannot afford the high poll tax—a penny.

The curtain falls on the first act, and an intermission of three months follows. The actors rest for the second act, which, they are told, is even harder than the first.

Act II begins with the same actors in the same place, but with a little more knowledge and a higher rank, for they are now known as Sophomores. A few of the actors are not present, as they were unable to conquer the villain Examinations.

The Sophomores seem to possess poise and a feeling of security, which is noticeably lacking in Act I. Many clubs are formed with Sophomores, and everyone receives a chance to talk over the radio on the program, "Your Schools on the Air."

The Sophomores become acquainted with three "joys" which, as we observe in the last act of the play, take up a great deal of their leisure time. These "joys" are better known as football, basketball, and baseball. The actors overexert themselves at "pep rallies." Following these events most of them are unable to talk, and they utter peculiar sounds. Not all these sounds can be blamed on the "pep rallies," for it seems that the actors have discovered French and Latin. They have also discovered that something new has been added to Math, an alphabet, and the result is that lovable subject, Algebra.

Another characteristic which is noticeable at this time is the romantic affairs which bud even in the dreary winter. The actors are improving their appearance. The girls wear make-up, and the boys have at last trained those stray ends of hair.

The brightness is shadowed sometimes by that ever present villain, Study, and is darkened when Examinations reappears. Such is life! The actors are better prepared for him than before. A few of the weaker ones are defeated, and therefore are not eligible for Act III, which follows after another brief intermission of three months.

In Act III, the actors are called Juniors and are so different that the play seems entirely new. They are still pursued by Study, but they understand him better. They are able to arrange their time, so that they can attend the Senior-Junior Prom and the Junior-Senior Prom, which is given by them and financed from a benefit movie. The day before the prom the girls are seen wearing "blue jeans," for everyone helps decorate the gym. The night of the prom finally arrives. The gym emerges as a beautiful dance floor with soft lights and heavenly music.

Many activities hold the interest of the actors in this act. There are Essay, Oration, and Spelling Contests, a Variety Show, Open House, the Youth Canteen and a Music Festival. In the midst of these happenings, the high school rings arrive and bring more excitement.

The officers of the Junior Class are Ernest Cope, President; Bettie Willard, Vice-President; Ward Jones, Secretary; and Randy Mills, Treasurer.

Again the curtain falls, and the actors enjoy another three months intermission. This time they prepare for the fourth and final act.

The matured actors greet Act IV joyfully. They have acquired deep friendships for each other through the acts and can now enjoy their various accomplishments.

The first big assignment which falls upon this class is the Annual. The actors work hard on this piece of work; it is their contribution to the school.

Another assignment is the Senior Play entitled "Lavender and Old Lace." This is a tremendous success. From the title, the class chooses its colors, Lavender and White, and its flower, the Orchid.

Following these assignments is Senior Day—the day when Seniors take over the school. During the day, peculiar sights are seen in the halls and classrooms. An entertaining assembly is given by the Seniors, and the day is fun, even for the underclassmen.

The Seniors are now full of knowledge, and the majority of them are at last signing their names to the Honor Roll List. This is the goal throughout the play, and most of the actors are victorious. There only remains freedom from Study and Examinations.

At last, the fatal hour arrives, and Final Examinations appears. The Seniors are brave, and a huge success is their reward. They are finished with Study, whom they find is not an enemy, but a great friend.

Throughout the act, the Seniors have many forms of entertainment and privileges. Parties are given in their honor, and the class picnic is "loads" of fun. These accomplishments are due to their competent sponsors, Mrs. Beable and Mrs. Chick.

The play concludes in a burst of glory, with music, flowers and many congratulations at what is known as Commencement Exercises. They have a wonderful, happy Ending, which in reality is only the Beginning.

Class Song

Where, oh where are the grand old Seniors?
Where, oh where are the grand old Seniors?
Where, oh where are the grand old Seniors?
Safe now in the wide, wide world.

They've gone out from their Alma Mater,
They've gone out from their Alma Mater,
They've gone out from their Alma Mater,
Safe now in the wide, wide world.

CLASS POEM

NON EXITUS SED INITUS

Not the end, at James Monroe
Merely the beginning; forward we go
Other goals seen, aims to be met
For the winning, ambitions' glow.

Not the finis, 'tis to gain us
Fame and fortune, in our time.
This is page one, life's begun;
Our uncut book, we've yet to see.

But before rejoicing, let us salute
Our teachers, and our friends
To their help, let's voice tribute.
Their inspiration, to bear us onward
As the sun of school, slips o'er the verge
Into the morn of life's day.

School's radiance will long endure
As later, our years grow fewer.
Today is not the closing of a door,
Just one ajar, that opens ever wide—
Life comes to greet us as of yore.

Non exitus sed initus.

NANCY C. STRAUGHAN.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of '48, of James Monroe High School, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby make and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament, in manner and form following, hereby revoking any will, or wills, heretofore made by us.

We, the Senior Class of '48, Do Hereby Bequeath Our Numerous Possessions Thusly:

I, Margaret Luck, leave my studiousness to Olga Bauer with the hope that she will use it to the best of her ability.

We, Elsie Williams and Lois Pritchett, leave to Miss Rowell the task of seeuring another soprano and alto for the Girls' Small Group.

I, Arden Lane, leave some of my red hair I have dressed so carefully to any young lady who wishes to let hers grow.

We, Douglas Janney and John Lindstrom, leave our bright and happy smiles to anyone who can use them as effectively as we can (especially on girls).

I, Jack Russler, leave my immense height to some "tall" fellow like Joe Dan McCary.

We, Thad Green, Bobby Hammer and Randolph Young, leave our worn out tires to Lee Pritchett; his truck might need a few extras.

We, Dean Pulliam, Jackie Kendall and Frances Hume, leave our English notes, so that the Seniors next year won't have to work so hard.

I, Ward Jones, leave my editing ability to next year's MONROE ECHO editor.

I, Ruth Young, leave with everyone the hope that someday I will grow.

I, Tommy Thurston, leave my nickname, "The Head," hoping that someone might find use for it.

We, Bertha Shelton and Paula Marchal, leave all our bubble gum wrappers; they'll start good fires in the furnace next winter.

We, Bettie Willard and Betty Jefferson, will some of our best laughs to anyone who would like to have them.

We, Nancy Sullivan and Jean Aldridge, do bequeath to next year's basketball forwards our ability to always "make the basket."

I, Joyce Monroe, leave to the student body my talent as an artist.

We, Ranny Mills, Jerry Cox, Dickie Limerick, Almont Lindsey and Alfred Ventura, leave to Herman Carr, Ray Donald, Tomty Cocke and Charles Harding our ability to play football and win.

I, Mathew Hall, will to Bert O'Toole my gracefulness as a basketball player.

We, Mary Heflin, Pearl Hall, Nadine Ferris and Peggy Shelton, will to Doris Pepper, Mary Oliver, Jackie Pitts and Carl Howard our skill to take shorthand.

I, Betty Sullivan, do will to the president of the Class of '49 my vacant chair as president and my efficiency as a speaker.

We, Nancy Straughan, Margaret Snellings and Betty Belew, will to three naughty Juniors our ability to be quiet in class.

We, Anne Beck and Shirley Gallahan, bestow our charm and personality on next year's Senior girls.

We, Gloria Wright and Rudy Mills, do bequeath to the most deserving couple our secret for happiness.

We, Nancy Gaquerel and Anne Reseh, will our love for horses to Lois Harder.

We, Marianne Rose, Paige Sullivan and Dorothy Snellings, leave our formula for friendship to any three inseparable persons.

We, Charles Carter and Jean Burton, leave our ability to "slide in" just as the tardy bell rings, to those having trouble finding acceptable excuses to tell Mr. Talbott.

We, Anne Stone, Howard Sullivan, Clinton Atkins and Bobby Heflin, leave to the silent members of the Junior Class our skill to carry on a conversation no matter where we are.

We, Billy Ross and Roger Chartters, will to the student body our secret for being "two very quiet Seniors."

We, Carl Mason, Donald Barr, Robert Featherston, Donald Holton and Edgar Morris, leave our ability to work and like it to any lazy persons.

I, Arthur Doumas, will to David Wheaton my skill in algebra.

I, Virginia Embrey, will to any industrious person my skill in library work.

I, Mary Peden, will to Marlene Kendall my flirting technique.

We, Ernest Cope and Gerald Potvin, leave our love for travel to others who have a wanderlust.

In Witness Whereof, We, the Class of '48, have hereunto subscribed our name and affixed our seal, the thirty-first day of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight.

CLASS PROPHECY

By Margaret Wheeling Luck

They had told me that I must prophesy. I knew not what to do. Suddenly, a newspaper dropped into my lap. The heading was Frederieksburg, Virginia, June 30, 1968. Seeing that it eontained many familiar names, I looked eloser. From these reeords, twenty years yet unborn, your confused prophet read thus:

This paper, published by Mr. Edgar Morris, a printer, while A.W.O.L. from Atlanta, was dictated in Chinese to his stenographer, Miss Jean Aldridge.

Miss Nancy Gaquerel and her horse Hayburner arrived in Queensbury Downs today to eompete for the British sweepstakes. They were aceompanied by Mr. Doug Janney, who trained Hayburner from eoltage.

Mr. Jaek Russler's latest movie was previewed in Hollywood last night. It was a howling sueeess.

The world today beat a path to Mr. Howard Sullivan's door. He has invented a better rouse trap.

Ward Jones, a Mary Washington professor, has eompleted his life's work, "A Modern Dietionary of Pig Latin."

Miss Arden Lane returned yesterday from her fifteenth trip to Reno, where she divoreed the Earl of Tottingham.

Mr. Ranny Mills' ninth daughter was born reeently. If they had all been boys, he would have had a baseball team.

Miss Betty Sullivan defeated the Chinese tennis champion and the umpire in a brilliant free-for-all yesterday at Oslo, Norway.

Mr. Almont Lindsey gave a reeeption this afternoon in honor of his tenth year at V. P. I. and his promotion to the Sophomore Class.

Miss Betty Jefferson, dramatics teacher, is being sued for libel and slander by Miss Anne Beck, famous commercial artist. Miss Jefferson was heard to publiely remark that Miss Beck's slip was showing.

Mr. Thad Green, scientist, left yesterday on a rocket trip to interview the man in the moon.

Commander Ernest Cope has completed a reeord-breaking voyage across the Rappahannock in a rowboat. He was aided by seaman first elass Anne Stone, who did the bailing.

Mr. Dickie Limerick, airplane meehanic, claims his profession is just one nut after another.

Miss Elsie Williams, assisted by Miss Lois Pritehett, who pumped the organ, played an inspiring rendition of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," with one finger, at Meredith College.

Miss Virginia Embrey, a graduate nurse, has astounded the world with her discovery that embalming is a sure eure for cancer.

Mr. Tommy Thurston, professional football player, told Miss Mary Peden, psyehiatrist, that he had felt peculiar ever sinee Mr. Donald Barr, local undertaker, had embalmed him by mistake five years ago. Miss Peden remarked that he did seem a bit stiff.

Miss Bertha Shelton, prominent lady architeet, married a man by mistake today, when she misplaced her glasses.

Miss Dean Pulliam, local draft board secretary, beeame a national heroine recently, when she drafted a congressman by mistake.

Mr. Charles Carter, upon entering his offiee as the new principal of James Monroe, remarked, "Home again!"

Mr. Mathew Hall was slightly bruised yesterday during the Redskin football game, when he fell off the bench.

Mr. Bob Hamner has accepted a position as salesman for a nationally known dog food company.

Miss Marianne Rose, Fog-bound Airlines hostess, married the pilot with whom she has flown for ten years.

Army Helieopters went aloft again today in an attempt to retrieve Mr. Gerald Potvin, who is floating around over Charlottesville. Miss Shirley Gallahan, University nurse, is still unable to explain how she mistook the helium tank for ether.

Mr. Clinton Atkins was embarrassed recently when told by Federal authorities that instead of striking a gold mine, he had tunneled into the United States Mint.

Mr. Jerry Cox, helicopter salesman, began a journey today, which he hopes will take him into homes in every continent.

Mr. Art Doumas has completed his new architectural masterpiece, a skyscraper whose foundation is suspended from toy balloons.

The James Monroe class of 1968 has awarded Mr. Al Ventura, the "Bull of Wall Street," with a cow bell.

Latest reports from Argentina state that Mr. Bobby Heflin is still involved in a South American civil war.

Miss Margaret Snellings has won the New York photographic contest with her picture of a wolf in sheep's clothing.

Miss Joyce Monroe, when rescued from Westhampton Lake yesterday, told reporters, "It was wonderful. Fifty Richmond boys were dunked in the rush."

Mr. Billy Ross, a contractor, upon completion of the new city jail, found himself trapped inside. He had forgotten to provide a door.

Miss Peggy Shelton is the first woman to win an argument with a dictaphone. She threw it from a third story window.

Miss Nancy Straughan has perfected a new system of filing. She flings the data into the filing cabinets with a shovel.

Mr. Randolph Young, geologist, was disappointed when it was confirmed that the dinosaur remains (unearthed by him) were only someone's false teeth.

Mr. Johnny Lindstrom, when trying to tunnel into Betty Grable's back yard, wound up in China.

Mr. Carl "Tex" Mason hog-tied a fellow Texan who accused him of having a Virginia accent.

Mr. Ray Donald, printer and mirror manufacturer, specializes in upside down newspapers.

Miss Mary Heflin resigned as a secretary when her typewriter, instead of ringing a bell, gave a low wolf whistle.

Miss Ruth Young, local organ grinder, has just bought a new monkey.

Miss Paula Marchal, after being trapped in a revolving door, was so delighted that she purchased a merry-go-round.

Miss Pearl Hall, local model, is now modeling Klu Klux Klan sheets.

Miss Jean Burton has become famous as a designer of skirts with built-in cushions for stenographers.

The latest catch for Miss Nancy Sullivan, nationally known big game huntress, was a three-inch mouse.

Miss Betty Below discovered today that for ten years she had been working in a W.P.A. office instead of a hospital.

Mr. Rudy Mills, lighthouse keeper at Hazel Run, uses Neveready batteries. Mrs. Mills, nee Miss Gloria Wright, keeps the lower lights burning.

Mr. Donald Holton, local card shark, cashed in his chips when he was caught with five aces today.

Miss Bettie Willard, senior government teacher, is not Stearn with her pupils. She likes apples.

Miss Jackie Kendall has made the headline edition ever since she backed into a printing press.

Mr. Robert Featherston has so far failed to receive his University diploma. He always sleeps through graduation.

Mr. Roger Chartters dynamited his homemade robot when it eloped with his car.

Miss Nadine Ferris gave up the nursing profession to open a three-ring circus.

Miss Dorothy Snellings and Miss Paige Sullivan have returned from darkest Africa, where they have been giving typing lessons to the cannibals.

A special today at Miss Anne Resch's barber shop was a twenty-five cent hair cut for bald headed men.

Mrs. Margaret Luck is still involved in libel suits over this senior class propheey.

Thus read the 1968 record of the class of 1948.

BETA CLUB

Since December, 1939, there has been at James Monroe an active chapter of the National Beta Club, an achievement-service organization.

As the name Beta suggests, the membership of this club is determined by scholastic grades. Any junior or senior who holds an average as high as "B" (ninety actually) on the preceding semester of classwork is eligible to enter. If a member allows his average for a semester to fall below ninety, he is dropped from the club.

Throughout the present school year, the local Betas have exerted special effort to be of service to the school. Two of their service projects were ushering for the "open house" and assisting students entering high school.

Many of the other activities of the club have been memorable. In December a Christmas party was held. In April a number of the Jayem Betas attended the State Beta Convention in Richmond. Also, several articles were contributed to the Beta Club Journal.

Second row: Alvin Mason, Mae Willis, John Wright, Hayden Silver, Kenneth Carter.

Third row: Margaret Garland, Ann Sacrey, Eleanor Rae Jones, Wilma Carneal, Frances Chewning.

JUNIOR BETA CLUB

It was in 1945 that certain teachers and Senior Betas first thought of providing for freshmen and sophomores of outstanding scholastic merit an incentive to maintain their high averages so that they might be eligible for the senior Beta Club upon becoming juniors. Thus the Junior Beta Club was organized and made an independent adjunct of the senior group.

Entrance requirements of the junior club are, as might be expected, the same as those of the senior Beta Club.

At Christmas time 1947 the Junior Betas filled baskets with food and sent them to needy families. As another project they selected a needy child in the city and helped take care of it by providing some food and clothing. They also kept the bulletin board filled with posters, clippings from newspapers, and other articles.

THE SPOTLIGHT

Published by Students of James Monroe High School

SPOTLIGHT STAFF

Third row: Barbara Forbush, Mary Weber Stoner, Sonya Sponseller, Nancy Hall, Jackie Dagg, Diana Rowe, Judy Scott, Lois Harder, Barbara Castle, Natalie Lancaster, Bobby Thurston, William Stewart, Bobbie June Caverlee, Doris Ann Lindsey, Olga Bauer, Peggy Hall, Peggy Snellings, Shirley Townsend.

The initial issue of the Spotlight was published October 25, 1923, by the Junior English Class under the direction of Miss Mary McKenzie. For a time it appeared bi-monthly in one and one-half columns, and was filled mainly with short stories, poems, book reviews, and jokes. Today it is published weekly, and contains mainly straight news stories with a variety of other items.

The Spotlight serves as a means of offering constructive criticism of affairs affecting the school and school life.

Seated, left to right: Geraldine Kendall, Frank Marchal, Barbara Eanes, Arthur Doumas, (Treasurer); Nancy Straughan, (President); Virginia Embrey, (Reporter); Ellen Ross Gibson, Peggy Snellings, Anne Sacrey.

Standing: Judy Scott, Joan Young, Thad Green, Betty Belew, Diana Rowe, Nancy Pugh, Virginia Brooks, Douglas Janney, Shirley Clarke, Joe Hefferman, (Vice-President); Janet Chinn, (Secretary); Peggy Flippo, Carrie Nunnally, Mary Weber Stoner, Billy Doumas, Bobby Thurston, Tommy Reed, Taylor Linton, Ruth Young, Miss Mildred Lapsley, (Sponsor).

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club, organized in 1945, has by various methods attempted to spread scientific knowledge. This year, it has sponsored a Camera and Projector Club, has helped organize a Junior Science Club, and has done work on Cancer, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, insects, and heredity. In the past it has presented many interesting programs for assemblies and "open house."

The only entrance requirement set by the club is that the student must have completed two years of science. However, it has a limited membership of thirty-two.

By the way, if you want to experience an honest-to-John initiation, join the Science Club of James Monroe High School.

Second row: Margaret Snellings, Shirley Grinnan, Mary Heflin, (Secretary); Joyce Monroe, (Treasurer).

Third row: Sonya Sponseller, Pearl Hall, Jean Aldridge, Betty Sullivan.

Fourth row: Mrs. Wilma Hester, (Sponsor); Miss Grace Larkin, (Sponsor); Bertha Shelton, William Stewart.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial Club is especially active in the promotion of our school's commercial department. It was started in 1946 by the students taking Second Year Typing and those taking Shorthand, and is open to all students enrolled in these classes.

By means of a point system developed this year, members are induced to compete with one another in doing extra commercial work for the various departments of the school. A point is given for each extra job completed, and at the end of a semester the member with the most points is awarded a prize.

Second row: Barbara Burgess, Ruth Young, Peggy Hall, Peggy Snellings, Marian Gravatt, Virginia Embrey, Pat Heflin, Betty Jean Walker, Eleanor Pritchett, Pauline Binns.

Third row: Mary Weber Stoner, Beverley Crooks, Lois Pritchett, Elsie Williams, Anne Resch, Peggy Flippo.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club has functioned since the year in which French became a scholastic subject at James Monroe.

The purpose of this club is to give members opportunities to gather informally to sing French songs, to practice conversation in French, and to discuss questions concerning French life.

Le Cercle is noted for writing and presenting skits in Freneh. Members have this year written to French boys and girls to exchange ideas, snapshots, and postcards. They are now attempting to gather books and magazines written in French because their supply of materials for extracurricular reading is deficient.

Any student interested in French may join the club.

DRAMATICS CLUB

THESPIAN SOCIETY

Standing: Randolph Young, Thad Green, Jack Russler, Mr. J. F. Dahlgren, (Sponsor); Douglas Janney, John Lindstrom, Ward Jones, Arthur Doumas.

DISTRIBUTORS CLUB

The Distributors Club is made up of all students who are enrolled in the Distributive Education class.

The purposes of this club are many. The more important ones are: to provide the members with a means of learning of the vocational opportunities in the field of distribution and of their significance to community life, to develop among the members leaders who will be capable of handling important responsibilities in the field of distribution or any field they might enter after graduation, and to help the students develop an understanding of their employer and their employer's problems, so that they may actually contribute to the organizations by which they are employed.

Social activities are planned throughout the year for the members. Guest speakers are often present at meetings to give to the students up-to-date information on retailing. An employer-employee banquet in which the students and their merchants participate is held at the close of each school year. A delegate is sent each year to Richmond to attend the state Distributors Club meeting.

The club has in previous years been a state and local club, but recently it has been organized on a national level as well.

Third row: Bertha Shelton, Jackie Kendall, Doris Pepper, Nancy Kesel, Pat Estes, Ann Stone, Dean Pulliam, Jackie Pitts, Barbara Garner, Marlene Kendall, Betty Jean Jefferson, Phyllis Damron.

GLEE CLUB

Our Glee Club is different from most high school glee clubs in two ways. First, it meets during a regular class period in every school day, and, second, one whole credit is given for a complete year of work.

In the past five years under the direction of Miss Margaret Rowell, our Glee Club has furnished music for school functions, church and community affairs. This school year, it presented a colorful Christmas program, which will long be remembered.

It is very difficult to keep the work moving smoothly because each semester when regular classes change, the membership of the Glee Club changes, too.

LITERARY CLUB

The main project of the Literary Club is to publish annually our school literary magazine, or the "Lit," as it is commonly known. In this magazine, which contains only the best pieces written by the members of the club, are short stories, poems, and many other types of literature.

The "Lit" is supported by advertisements, friends, and the school.

Anyone who likes to write may join the club.

Second row: Betty Jean Jefferson, Lois Pritchett, Judy Scott, Mary Anne Reynolds, Marlene Kendall, Paula Marchal, Jackie Pitts, Nancy Straughan.

Third row: Mrs. Josephine Mills, (Sponsor); Nancy Kesel, Jean Donahoe, Patsy Wilhour, Diana Rowe, Jean Aldridge, Virginia Embrey, Peggy Sullivan.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

To enter the Girls' Athletic Association a girl must acquire a thousand points by participating in some sport or sports.

Members of the G. A. A. are always on hand at football, basketball, and baseball games to sell tickets, guard the canvas, and perform various other tasks.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS NEWS

The Industrial Arts News is a small paper published monthly by the students of the shop of our high school. According to its masthead, this publication is "an honest effort to present all aspects of journalistic work: to learn the editorial and mechanical make-up of a newspaper as well as to inform everyone of the happenings in the shops of the Fredericksburg City Schools." All the mechanical processes involved in the production of a paper, with the exception of typesetting by Linotype, are performed here in the Jayem shop by the students themselves.

The first issue of the "I A News" was published in February 1944, more or less as an experiment. Since that time the paper has been constantly improved and enlarged, and now it ranks with the other publications of James Monroe High.

It is the only paper of its kind in the state of Virginia.

Second row: Duley Houston, Nancy Hart, Barbara Meredith, Pauline Binns, Nadine Ferris, Barbara Hicks, Frances Chewning, Wilma Carneal, Jack Kendall, Joan Insley, Shirley Jenkins, Elaine Hirsh.

Third row: David Wheaton, Raymond Colley, Peggy Shelkett, Joan Sullivan, Dorothy Fugett, Joe Dan McCary, Bernard Curtis, Aubrey Daffan, Franklin Powell.

JAMES MONROE HIGH BAND

The James Monroe Band, organized in 1931, builds music appreciation in the school and creates better citizenship among its members.

Playing for all assemblies, football games, and for many civic functions, the band improves greatly from year to year. The new members who replace the outgoing seniors always do much to maintain its good reputation.

It is interesting to note that girls were not admitted to this musical group until 1938.

Standing behind desk: Ryland Bowie, William Stewart, Marian Gravatt, Elsie Williams, (Vice-President); Franklin Powell, (President); Lois Pritchett, (Secretary-Treasurer); Peggy Shelton.

LIBRARY CLUB

For membership in this club one must be a library assistant or have previously been one. These students give one period a day to help in the library.

The joy of service and experience are the major rewards for this work. However, our school now gives a certificate of recognition for one semester of work, a felt emblem for two semesters, and a gold pin for three semesters.

Second row: Edgar Morris, Dean Pulliam, Dorothy Wright, Delores Fines, Arden Lane, Jean Burton, Gertrude Beach, Emogene Fletcher, Patricia Estes, Frances Hume, Donald Barr, Richard Bell.

DIVERSIFIED OCCUPATIONS CLUB

The Diversified Occupations Club was organized in 1938, when the D. O. Program was started in the high school. Since that time the club has contributed considerably to the progress of the program.

The work that has been done during the 1947-48 session is typical of such a club as this. One picnic was enjoyed by the members and their friends last fall. The club also sponsored a show to raise money to purchase movie film to use in photographing the students on their jobs. In the spring the club took a field trip.

Standing: Barbara Castle, Phyllis Smith, Peggy Hall, Peggy Snellings, John Wright, Joe Scher, Mac Willis, Philip Coleman, Jerry Leonard, Betty Jean Walker, Miss Vivian Fulton, (Student-Teacher); Mrs. Mildred Chick, (Sponsor).

Manes Antiqua Roma

One of James Monroe's newest clubs is the Manes Antiqua Roma (Shades of Ancient Rome), which was organized in October, 1947.

This club is unique in the respect that members converse only in Latin while attending meetings. From the time the president says "conveniat" until the meeting is closed with "finiat," English is absolutely taboo.

For the revival and increase of interest in Latin, the Manes have presented an assembly program, and have published a Latin newspaper.

Any student who has completed or is in the process of completing a second year of Latin is eligible to enter this club.

Seated, left to right: Jean Hall, (Vice-President); Pat Middleton, (Treasurer); Betty Sullivan, (President); Lucille Hudson, (Chairman); Joyce Shepherd, (Secretary); Mrs. Audrey Godfrey, (Sponsor).

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

Did you on one September day happen to see some girls walking about the halls of our fair school with doll babies in their arms and play shoes on their feet? If you did, you probably knew then that they were being initiated into the Future Homemakers of America.

The theme of this club for girls is "The importance of the Study of Homemaking." In pursuance of this theme, the club attempts to show girls the opportunities which courses in home economics offer, to encourage them to continue their education in this field after graduating from high school, to develop leadership and create a desire for participation in our democratic society, and to promote recreation in the home, school and community.

Members are striving to make their chapter a stronger part of the state and national organizations of homemakers.
